We collect what inspires us.

Dear art lovers,

We are Klaus Meßner and Eric Derveaux. We share a love of art and a passion for collecting it. This provided the motivation for our project duesseldorf-art.

With duesseldorf-art we have been making high-quality art by young artists from the Rhineland accessible to a selected public since 2004 – through our own exhibitions, studio visits and individual art consulting. Our services are aimed at companies, private collectors and art lovers – and those just starting out as art collectors.

Get in touch with us if you would like advice on styling your premises with art or are „only“ looking for a suitable work of art for one room.

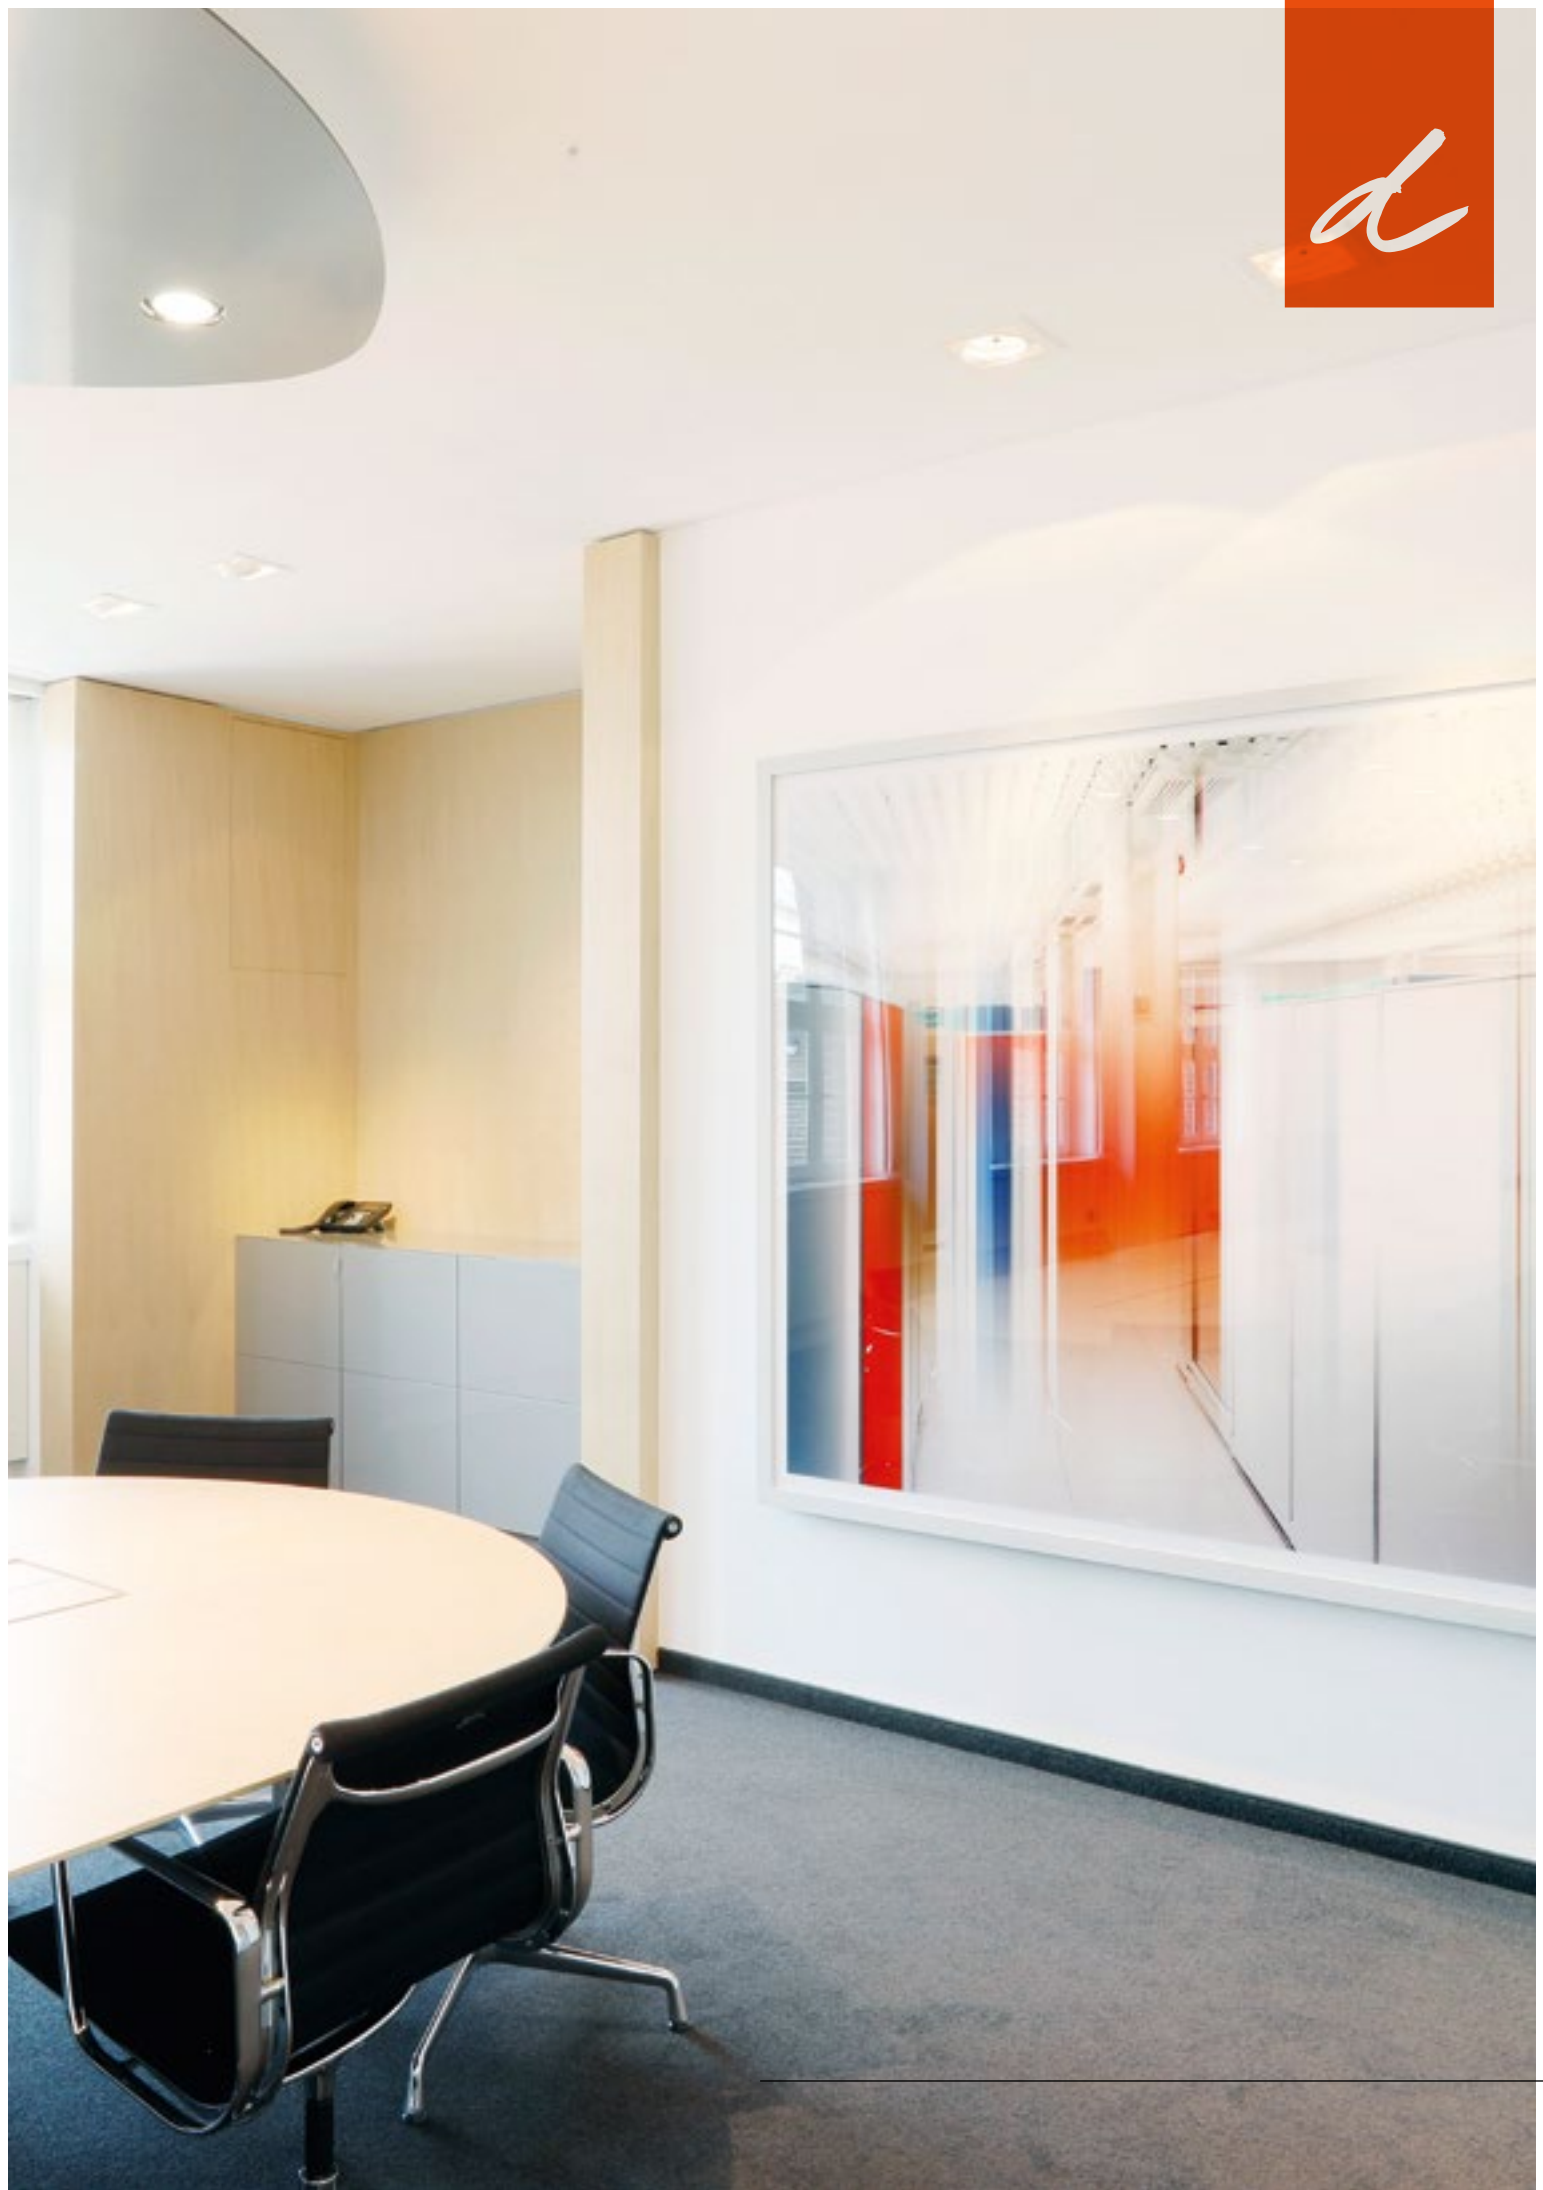

We are looking forward to hearing from you.

Art creates new perspectives.

Art creates new perspectives.

Whoever wants to build up relationships with other people through communication – whether with customers, employees or in the private sphere – looks for an idea that permeates the most diverse areas of life.

This idea must enthuse people, get them talking to each other, open their eyes for new ideas and create long-term relationships. Art is the ideal platform for this. When used in the right way, art connects people, captures their attention and interest, and establishes identity.

With the works of outstanding young artists from Düsseldorf and the Rhineland you can make the uniqueness of your company or the distinctiveness of your private premises stand out.

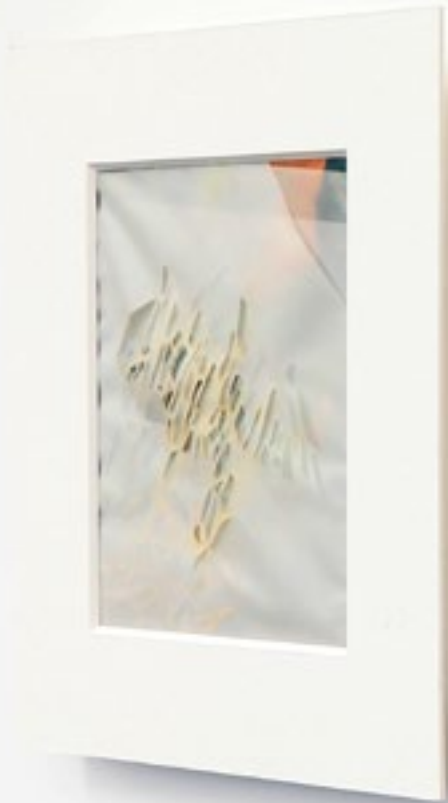

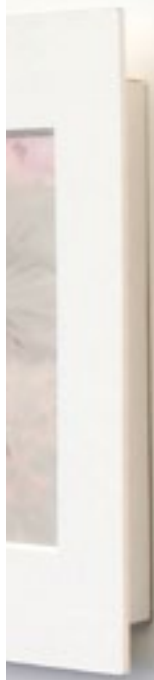

If you are looking for a particular artist, a particular style, a defined format or a very special work of art – we would be pleased to help. duesseldorf-art provides consultation and mediates between artists and potential purchasers. And – in contrast to the classical galleries with their fixed portfolio artists – completely independently.

Expertise is essential. Enthusiasm makes the difference.

As art consultants we constantly and comprehensively monitor the current art market. Our focus is on art by young artists from the Rhineland, especially those associated with the Kunstakademie Düsseldorf (Art Academy Düsseldorf). In this context we work with successful artists, aspiring young talents and established gallery owners and art publishers.

In an extensive consultation we carefully consider the architecture and style of your rooms, the lighting conditions and the colours, your personal style, your company culture and any existing works of art. Many years of experience, expertise and empathy are decisive in this process. In close interaction with you, we find optimal solutions tailor-made to your philosophy, your needs, your budget and the parameters of your space.

Positive impact and identity. Both internally and outwardly.

duesseldorf-art provides companies with modern, contemporary art. If desired, we also arrange commissioned work in the areas of painting, sculpture and photography as well as objects for walls, video art and wall installations.

We develop harmonious art concepts with intrinsic value, including possible options and alternatives. The premises of companies, banks and lawyers benefit from these concepts as well as doctors' practices, hotels, event locations, waiting rooms and other areas accessible to the public. But regardless of where the art is utilized – it creates identity and intensifies the communication between you, your staff, partners and customers.

Inviting conversation.

Art may excite, agitate or simply be enjoyed. But it always provides a perfect inducement to get into conversation with one another. Art stimulates communication. Across all industries, internationally and even when your customers speak their own language.

A People Business.

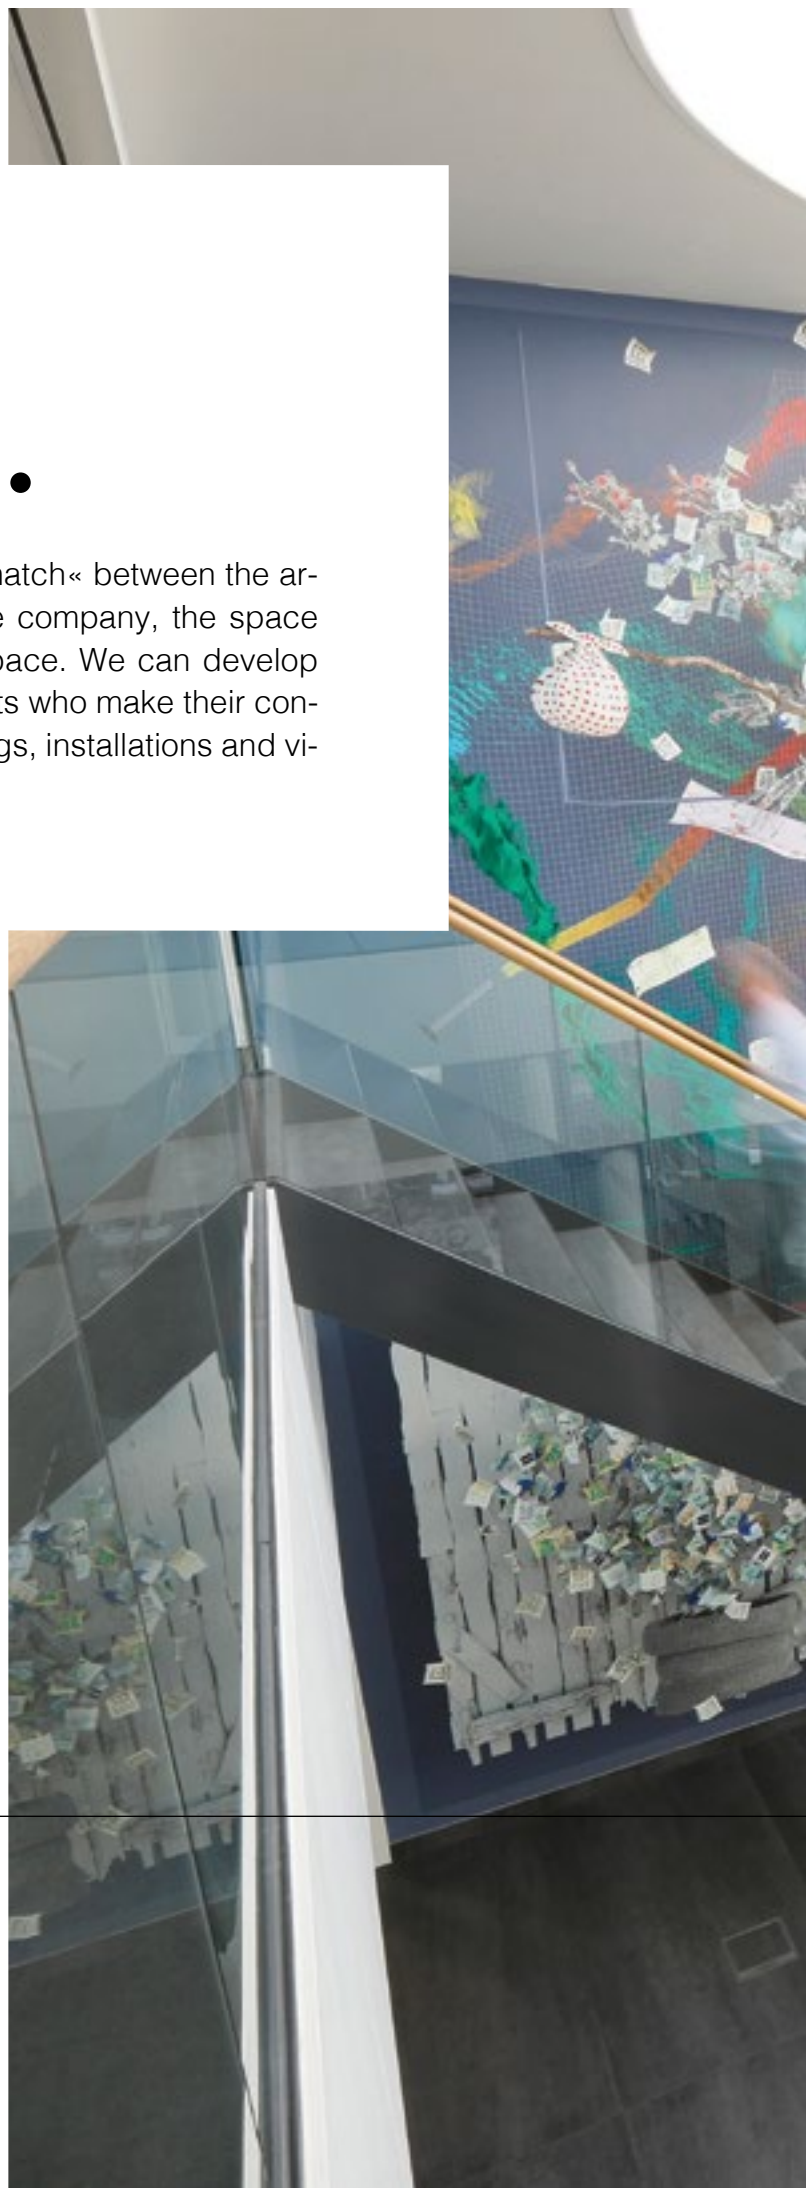

Real appreciation is individual. So are high-quality art objects. With your art purchase you show your employees, guests and customers how valuable they are to you. At the same time your appreciation is directed toward the artist – and you make a valuable contribution to promoting and supporting the local young artists' scene.

Great potential.

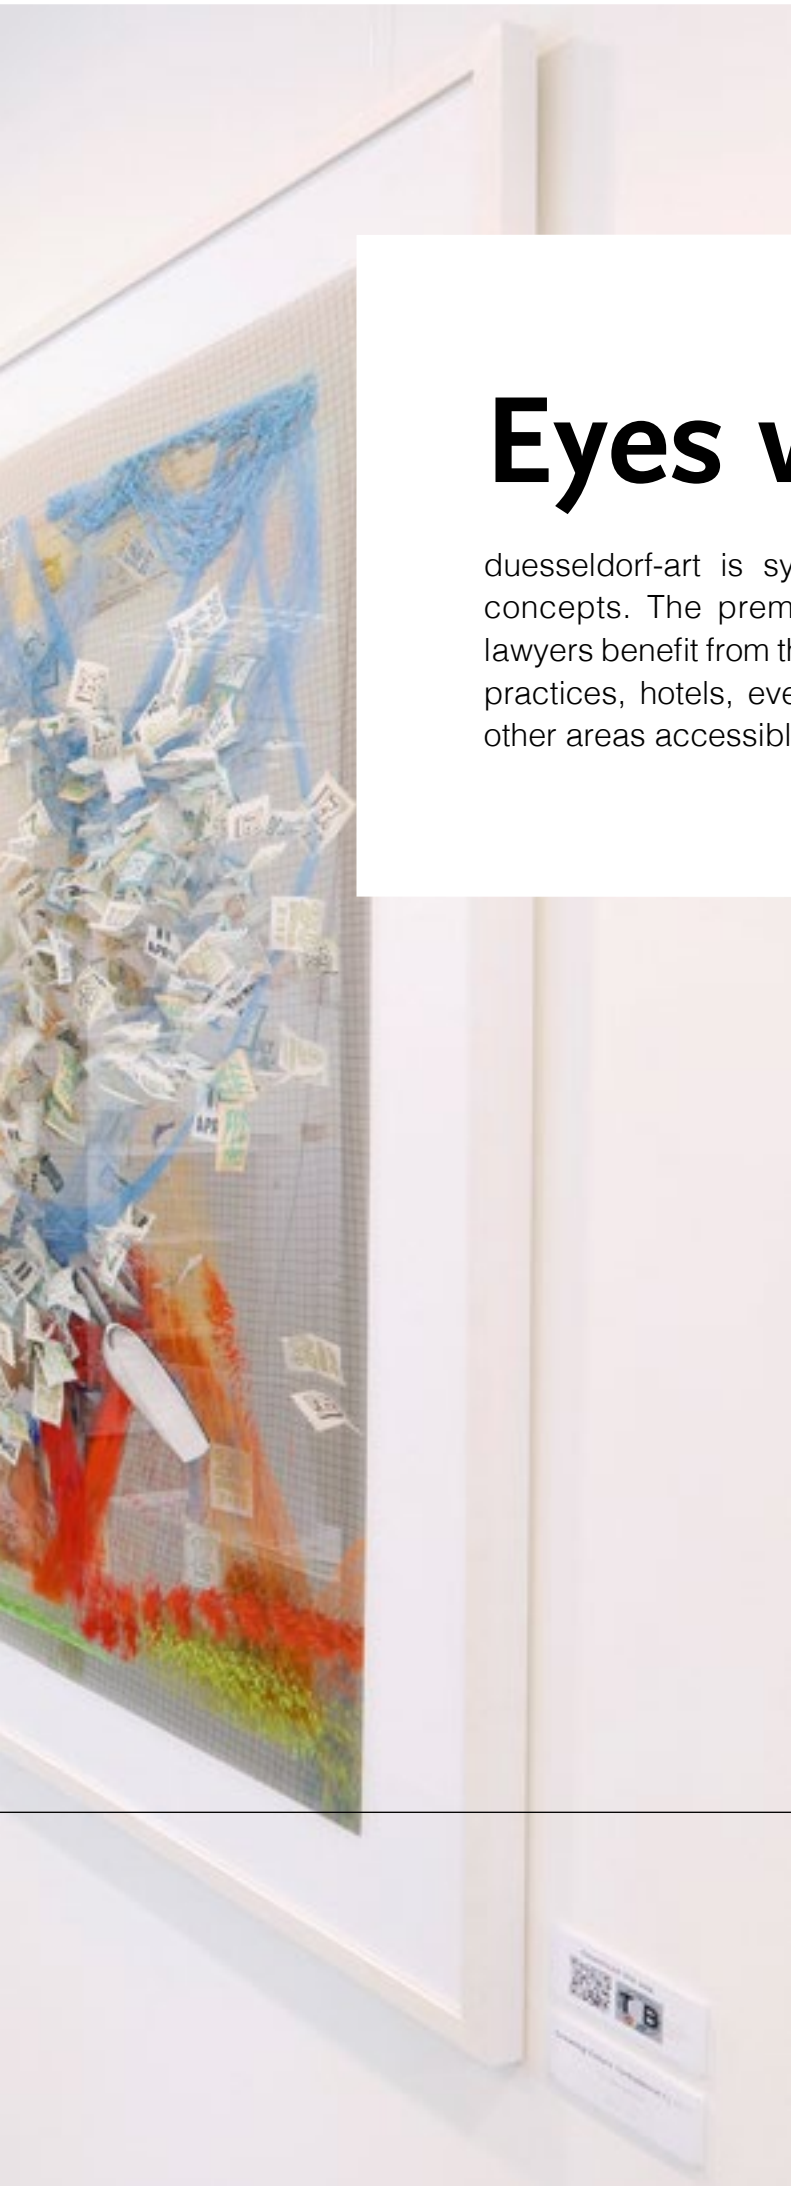

Sometimes there is a »perfect match« between the artist, the corporate design of the company, the space and the people who use this space. We can develop this. Together with you and artists who make their contribution with large-scale paintings, installations and video projections.

Eyes wide open.

duesseldorf-art is synonymous with harmonious art concepts. The premises of companies, banks and lawyers benefit from these concepts as well as doctors' practices, hotels, event locations, waiting rooms and other areas accessible to the public.

Art creates identity.

We love the details and the special characteristics that make people different. Art makes exactly this visible. It helps us to discover things that we may not have seen previously and adds colour to our lives. So that this can be realized exactly to the extent that you desire we help you to find works of art that are suitable for you.

duesseldorf-art supports and advises you in the selection and purchase of individual works or equally when building up your private art collection.

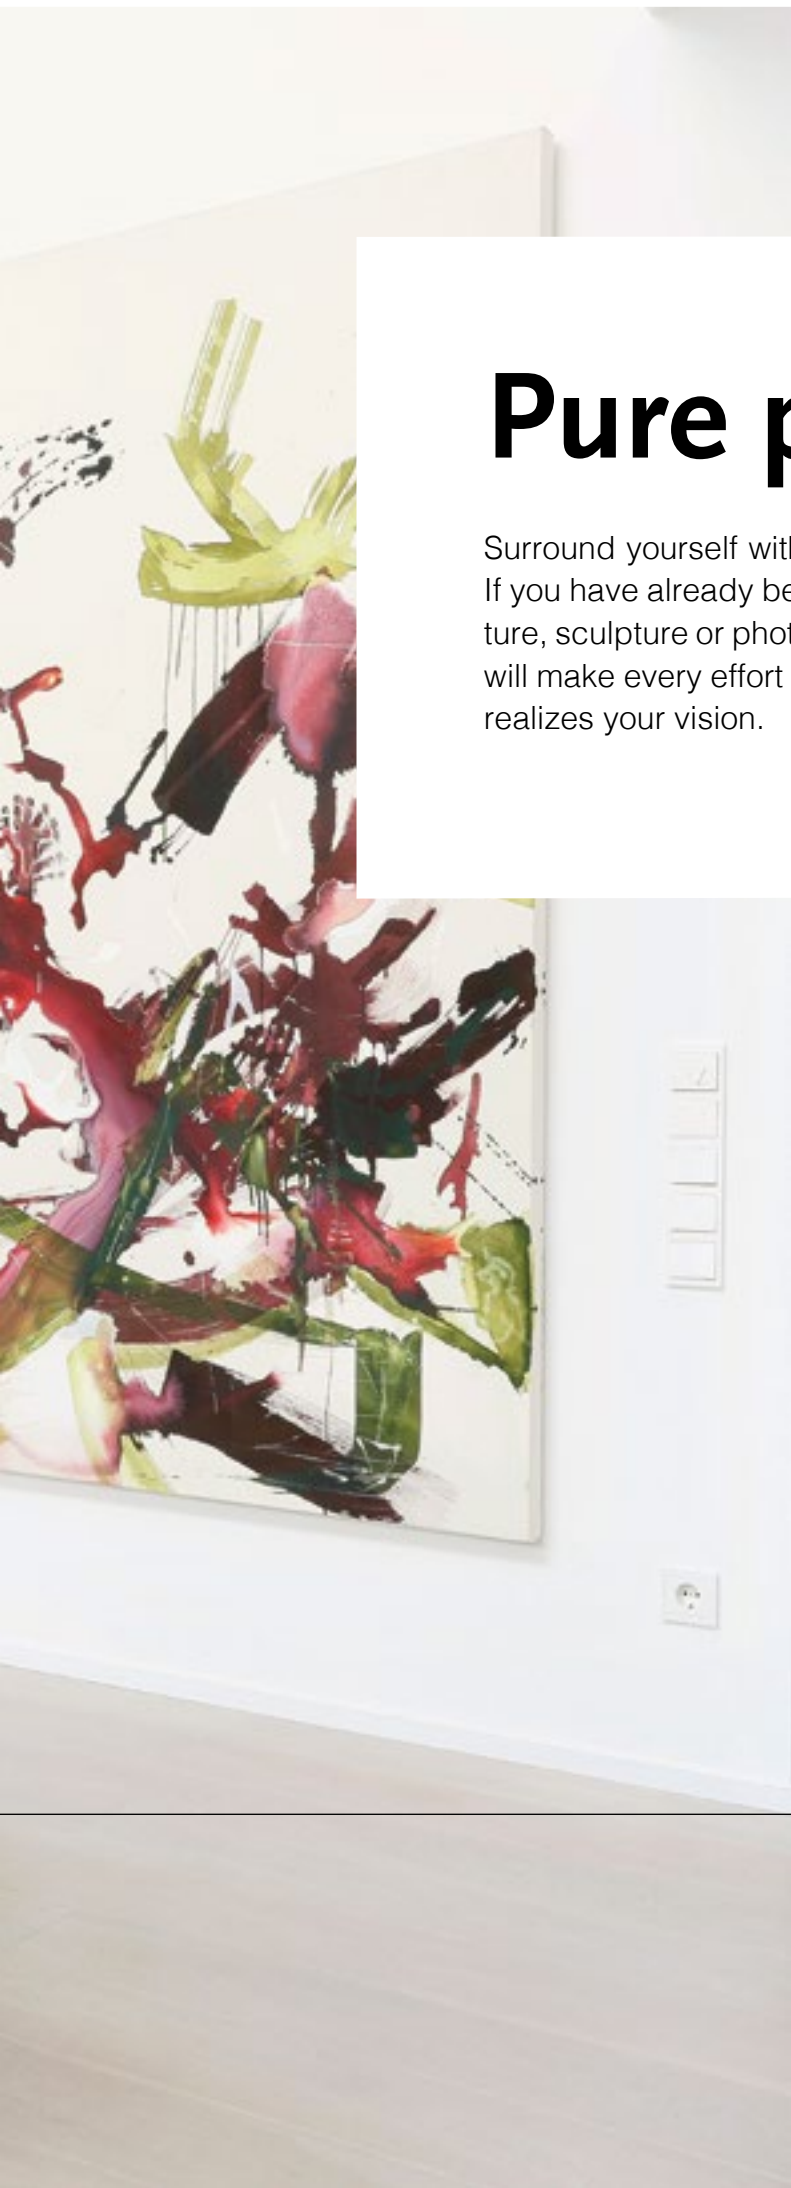

We look for works of art from well-known, established artists as well as promising, emergent new talents and find the art that inspires you and that fits in with an overall concept of architecture, interior design, the lighting situation and any existing art.

duesseldorf-art works as an independent art consultancy directly with artists as well as with established gallery owners and art publishers. If desired, we organize studio and exhibition visits where we select, together with you, the works of art that exactly suit you and your premises.
